Project Collaboration Feature overview

Real-time project management to improve your project delivery, productivity and profitability.

Feature area	Description	Benefits
 Site Diary	Capture all site activities in real-time (Mobile or Desktop)	Reduce administration and rework by capturing real-time activities and shifts, as well as minimise project and information cycle times to allow for better decision making.
	Manage “on-the-go meetings”	Schedule meetings to enhance communications and reduce downtime while improving visibility of key meetings across all sites and projects.
	Manage workforce tasks and activities	Improve productivity and deliverables with flexible work allocation, and adapt to changing needs and priorities across multiple projects.
 Project Milestones Management	Create and update project milestones	Manage projects and project stages, and integrate to other project management systems to stay on track.
	Capture updates and information.	Update all related project information into one system by importing from existing systems, or by direct updates into HardHat
	Measure and track project status	Plan and schedule project tasks down to the associated individual or group activities required.
 Tasks and Activities	Create and manage tasks	Design and manage risk assessments via a common reference library.
	Manage day-to-day activities	Allow site/project management to manage employees’ daily activities to improve productivity and outcomes.
	Automate common tasks	Embed common workflow and processes to allow for easy automation and standardisation of common, everyday tasks and activities
 Real-time Reporting and Analytics	Create detailed reports on project information	Provide key stakeholders/clients access to all critical project information in easy-to-read reports.
	Create business-centric dashboards	Combine multiple reports into a business dashboard that highlights only the information that is critical for decision making.
	Import data from multiple sources for better reporting and analysis	Using the HardHat open integration framework, easily access other information systems to provide an organisational view of the business.
